

Wind Center

Reported by: Torre Josey

Tuesday, Oct 6, 2009 @07:34am CDT

TUCUMCARI --- An area college is getting money to build a wind center. Mesalands Community College in Tucumcari will begin building the North American Wind Research and Training Center. The center will provide state-of-the-art training in wind technology. The school hopes to have the center completed by November 2010.