HISTORY

Mesalands Community College is an independent, comprehensive, two-year community college that offers certificate and degree programs, academic transfer courses, adult basic education, and community education courses for lifelong learners. The campus of Mesalands Community College is positioned on 23 acres, with room for future expansion. The main campus is comprised of six buildings, with additional buildings located at other sites off the main campus. The main campus of the College is located at 911 South Tenth Street in Tucumcari, New Mexico. Tucumcari is located in the eastern part of the state, approximately 100 miles west of Amarillo, Texas, and 168 miles east of Albuquerque, New Mexico. It is recognizable by its landmark, the 5,000-ft. butte known as Tucumcari Mountain. Interstate Highway 40 and U.S. Highway 54 converge in the town, making it a popular tourist site.

In January 1979, an act of the State of New Mexico Legislature authorized the establishment of an area vocational school in Tucumcari (Statutory Authority: Sections 21-17-1 through 21-17-17 NMSA (New Mexico Statutes Annotated) 1978). Mesalands Community College was originally established as Tucumcari Area Vocational School (TAVS), under the Area Vocational School Act of New Mexico during the thirty-third Legislative Session. The school was authorized to offer programs of vocational education leading to certificates and diplomas.

In November 1993, the institution was authorized by the New Mexico Commission on Higher Education to offer Associate of Applied Science degrees in Business Administration and Computer Information Systems. In June 1994, the Commission on Higher Education authorized the College to offer the Associate of Applied Science degree for each of its technical/vocational programs. The degree programs were implemented in the fall semester of 1994.

In 1994, the Board of Trustees authorized Tucumcari Area Vocational School to begin doing business as Mesa Technical College, in order to more accurately represent the institution to its varied constituents as a small community college.

In the fall semester 1995, Mesa Technical College implemented a pre-collegiate studies program and expanded its course offerings in general education. In the spring semester of 1996, the College began expanding its offerings via distance learning, including the Electronic Distance Education Network (EDEN), a cooperative effort of the universities of New Mexico, Public Broadcasting System (PBS), and the Internet.

In the spring semester 1996, the College developed programs in Paleontology and Geology. Mesalands Community College Dinosaur Museum and Natural Science Laboratories was planned, based on a partnership that developed between the College and the community. The project was important in recognizing, maintaining, and promoting the region's rich heritage as one of the premiere deposits of fossilized ancient life. The community continues to donate considerable time, energy, and resources to the Museum for cataloging specimens and providing sites for further exploration. An outgrowth of planning for separate funding of the Museum resulted in the establishment of the Mesa Technical College Foundation, Inc., for charitable, scientific, and educational purposes.

On July 1, 1996, Mesa Technical College came under the direction of a new president who instituted a concerted effort in strategic planning - a prerequisite to addressing institutional challenges and implementing effective change. The College's new direction manifested itself in significant changes, including the implementation of student assessment, institutional effectiveness, and curriculum development. The institution's mission and goals were reviewed and revised, appropriate to the new effort to become a comprehensive community college.

The president also launched an intensive effort to earn accreditation from The Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the North Central Association (NCA) of Colleges and Schools. Administration, faculty, and staff set forth on a fast track to compress the two-year process normally needed to earn a site visit from the NCA into a period of less than one year. In August 1997, these efforts were rewarded when NCA granted Mesa Technical College candidacy for accreditation. In August of 1999, Mesa was granted the status of initial accreditation by NCA; at which time the State allowed the College to begin offering the Associate of Arts degree.

In the fall of 1998, the College launched a new intercollegiate rodeo program in response to the desires of its students and local community. The success of this program led to the establishment of a livestock judging team in 2001.

On September 11, 2001, the Board of Trustees renamed the institution Mesalands Community College. With the College continuing to grow and mature, the College's name was changed to more adequately reflect its mission.

MESALANDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

BOARD POLICIES

FOREWORD

The Board of Trustees of Mesalands Community College is an elected body of individuals comprised of five members, one elected from each of the five districts comprising Mesalands Community College District, County of Quay, and State of New Mexico. However, once elected, Trustees collectively represent the entire population of the District, not the citizens of the District by sub-divisions which elected them.

The Board is responsible for broad policies that govern all phases of the educational program offered at Mesalands Community College.

Policy statements are regularly adopted and promulgated with the intention of expressing the educational mission, goals and expectations of the Board of Trustees. The policies are intended for the use of college employees, students and other citizens to provide general policies for guiding decisions related to the operation of the College.

The Board is acutely aware of its ultimate responsibility to the general public and to the student population at large. Recommendations for Board policy changes will be received by the Board in an orderly manner through the duly constituted arrangements described in Board policies and implemented by current administrative procedures. The Board relies upon the President and the administrative staff for their experience and expertise in higher education and college administration to provide the Board with general guidance in developing, implementing, and maintaining currency in Board policies.

The implementation of the policies through administrative measures is delegated by the Board to the President as the Chief Executive Officer for the Board of Trustees.

Together, we are a team of educators working to build a better college which will serve the citizens of this area, and ultimately the State of New Mexico, more effectively by providing quality college education accessible to all qualified students.

Testing of an employee during the employee's normal working hours may be done in instances where there is reasonable suspicion that an employee is under the influence of a mind altering substance, drug and/or alcohol in violation of this policy. In such cases, the supervisor is to contact the Human Resources office for instructions.

The Human Resources office will review the situation with the supervisor immediately and determine if the employee is to be tested. If the decision is to test the employee and the employee refuses to be tested, he/she will be suspended immediately without pay and will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination, for refusing to cooperate. If the employee agrees to be tested, the employee will be required to sign the Informed Consent and Release of Liability form.

SECTION: 10.0, SPEECH AND DISTRIBUTION OF WRITTEN INFORMATION

POLICY TITLE: 10.1, FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION

As an Institution that exists for the express purposes of education and public service, the College is dependent on the unfettered flow of ideas, not only in the classroom and laboratory, but also in all College activities. As such, protecting freedom of expression is of central importance to the College. The exchange of diverse viewpoints may expose people to ideas some find offensive, even abhorrent. The way that ideas are expressed may cause discomfort to those who disagree with them. The appropriate response to such expression is by expressing opposing ideas and continuing dialogue, not curtailment of expression.

The College also recognizes that the exercise of free expression must be balanced with the rights of others to learn, work, and conduct business. Speech activities or distribution of information that unduly interferes with the rights of others or the ability for the College to carry out its mission is not protected by the First Amendment and violates this policy.

The College is committed to tolerate all peaceful activities of expression carried out upon the campus, unless those activities destroy or materially damage property, materially disrupt other legitimate College activities, or create a substantial health or safety hazard. This policy applies to all buildings, grounds and properties owned or controlled by the College.

10.1.1 Individuals or groups wanting to use regularly scheduled College facilities for speech activities or of distribution of written materials are encouraged to schedule the activities 24 hours prior to the event with the Vice President of Student Affairs. Users who fail to schedule an activity that occurs and unduly interferes with a prior scheduled activity or normal business of the College is in violation of this policy.

10.1.2 With reference to the College's Dinosaur Museum, individuals or groups may express their views or distribute information to Museum visitors outside or in the hallway between the Museum Shop and laboratory/classroom area, so long as it does not interfere with normal Museum activities.

SECTION: 11.0, CAPITALIZATION OF ASSETS

POLICY TITLE: 11.1, OBJECTIVES

- 11.1.1 To ensure uniform understanding of the Board of Trustees capitalization policy for fixed assets.
- 11.1.2 To standardize the accounting for capital expenditures
- 11.1.3 With respect to the reporting of capital assets, to ensure compliance with Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement
- No. 13 Accounting for Leases
 - No. 34 Capitalization of Interest Cost
 - No. 34, Basic Financial Statements, and Management's Analysis, for state and local governments
 - No. 35, Basic Financial Statements, and Management's Discussion and Analysis, for Public Colleges and Universities
 - No. 51, Accounting and Financial Reporting for Intangible Assets, and Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS)
 - No. 34 Capitalization of Interest Cost

MESALANDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

BOARD POLICIES

POLICY TITLE: 11.2, POLICY

The policy of the Board of Trustees is to capitalize capital assets as follows:

11.2.1 LAND: All expenditures incurred to acquire land and to place it ready for use should be capitalized. The acquisition costs of land should include: (1) the purchase price; (2) closing costs; (3) cost incurred in preparing the land in condition ready for its intended use; (4) assumption of any liens or mortgages on the property; and (5) improvements made to the land that have indefinite lives and are permanent in nature. Since land is acquired on a parcel basis, it should be recorded on that basis. However, land parcels representing components of a site are aggregated and ultimately recorded as one parcel. Land purchased with the purpose of constructing a building is capitalized as land. Benefits received for clearing the land in preparation of building will be considered a reduction on the price of the land.

11.2.2 LAND IMPROVEMENTS: Improvements to land, other than buildings or infrastructure, that ready land for its intended use, which have a life of their own exclusive of the land or building(s), such as site excavations and improvements; removal or reconstruction of others' property; and retaining walls. Fences, driveways, and landscaping should be recorded as land improvements so that they can be depreciated over their estimated useful lives.

The capitalized costs of land improvements should be a minimum of $50,000 which includes the net invoice price and any additional costs incurred to bring the asset to a condition ready for its intended use. Land improvement should be recorded as a separate asset from land. Example: parking, etc.

11.2.3 BUILDING: If a building is acquired by purchase, the capitalized cost should include the purchase price and other incidental expenses incurred at the time of acquisition. If a building is constructed instead of purchased, the capitalized cost should include material, labor, supervision, and overhead, or the contract price, including certain added costs such as:

- Building permit and license fees
- Architectural, engineering and attorneys fees

MESALANDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

- Insurance premiums, applicable to the construction period, including premiums on insurance on claims for damages and accidents
- Title examination costs
- Costs of temporary building used for construction office or as tool and material shed

Interest incurred during the construction period on bonds or other obligations assumed or issued to obtain funds for the construction should be capitalized as additional cost of a building (SFAS No. 34). Each building should be recorded as a separate asset and depreciated accordingly.

- 11.2.4 INFRASTRUCTURE: The cost of infrastructure assets (improvements related to land but not associated to buildings) should include capitalized interest and ancillary charges necessary to place the asset into its intended location and condition for use. Ancillary charges include costs that are directly attributable to asset acquisition or construction such as contract price, freight and transportation charges, site preparation, professional fees, etc. (GASB Statement No. 34). Each infrastructure asset should be recorded as a separate asset and depreciated accordingly. Infrastructure expenditures have a life exclusive of a building. The infrastructure category of capital fixed assets includes sidewalks, fences, outside lighting, parking lots, maintenance tunnels, steam pipes, and sewer systems.

Improvements on land that have a life of their own exclusive of the land or building(s) on that land should be capitalized in this category. The cost of the project must be greater than $75,000 for it to be capitalized.

- 11.2.5 COSTS INCURRED AFTER ACQUISITION OR CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDING: The following capitalization policy should apply with respect to expenditures incurred subsequent to acquisition or construction of buildings.

- 11.2.5.1 Addition: All expenditures incurred for an addition consisting of an entirely new unit should be capitalized and charged to a specific building account. The new unit should be depreciated over its estimated life. If an addition represents an extension, expansion, or enlargement of an old unit, all expenditures incurred in such addition to place the enlarged building in condition for its intended use, should be capitalized and charged to a specific building improvement account. The policy is to regard all costs, including the costs of deletion, less salvage from demolished or reconstructed portions of the old structure, as costs of the building improvement. Additions made to buildings should be recorded if the total cost is $50,000 or more and have useful life of more than one year.

11.2.5.2 Alteration and Renovation: The costs of alteration and renovation should be capitalized if the following criteria are met:

- The expenditures increase the service potential of the building
- The total improvement costs, including the contract price, engineering, architectural and attorney fees, etc., is $50,000 or more
- The improvement has a useful life of more than one year.

Costs of alteration and renovation should be recorded and charged to the building improvement account and should not be added to the capitalized value of the existing structure being impacted. Such additions would include the following:

- Ramps, truck doors, fire escapes and other appurtenances
- Improvements requiring modifications of the structure to comply with current fire, health and safety codes

MESALANDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

- Improvements undertaken to convert unusable floor space into usable floor space, or upgrade the use of floor space (i.e., converting storage areas to office/classroom space)
- Modernization of the structure as a whole, and not merely a rearrangement of selective office/classroom areas

When the renovation project involves a significant razing of the existing structure, the cost, including the accumulated depreciation of the portion that was razed shall be removed from the system. If the original cost is not available, a reasonable estimate of the original cost should be used.

11.2.5.3 Repairs: Extraordinary repairs incurred on equipment costing $5,000 or more and which extends the life of the equipment should be added to the cost of the equipment being impacted. Expenditures on ordinary repairs should be expensed in the period in which they are incurred on the basis that it is the only period benefited.

11.2.6 EQUIPMENT: Expenditures for equipment and furnishings costing $5,000 or more on a unit basis and have an estimated life of more than one year should be capitalized and should be depreciated over its estimated life. Items in this category should be capitalized at net invoice price (net of cash, trade-in allowances and other earned discounts) or market value (if acquired by gift) plus cost of asset assembly, asset installation, freight, in-transit insurance, training for use of the asset, and preparation of the asset and/or asset site for its intended use.

Examples of costs that are not considered capital equipment, regardless of the cost or useful life, are repair or replacement parts, and general maintenance and warranty agreements.

Generally, equipment that is attached to a building is capitalized when removing the equipment does not cause structural damage to the building and will not destroy the equipment.

11.2.7 FABRICATED EQUIPMENT: Self-constructed equipment should be capitalized if the total unit cost incurred to fabricate the equipment is $5,000 or more, the asset has an estimated useful life of more than one year and should be depreciated over its estimated life. Self-constructed equipment should be recorded at cost, which includes materials, direct labor, and applicable overhead incurred to fabricate the equipment.

11.2.8 DONATED ASSETS: Mesalands Community College sometimes receives gifts of fixed assets. Property acquired by gift should be capitalized at its fair market value at the time of gift. A conditional gift of fixed assets should be recorded as "Contingent Asset" until the stipulated conditions are met.

11.2.9 WORKS OF ART AND HISTORICAL TREASURES: These assets are defined as one or more items 1) on public display, 2) used in furtherance of historical education, or 3) involved in advancement of artistic or historical research. Any art and museum piece purchased or donated to the College shall be capitalized if the value is $5,000 or greater. If a collection is greater than $5,000 then it will be capitalized as a collection. These items will be capitalized at their historical cost or fair market value at date of donation and will be included in the community college's capital assets as individual items or in a collection if the following conditions are met:

- Held for public exhibition, education or research in furtherance of public service, rather than financial gain
- Protected, kept unencumbered, cared for and preserved.

11.2.10 LIBRARY ACQUISITIONS: All cataloged library acquisitions (library books, films, recordings, monographs, serials and software) shall be capitalized. There is no limitation as to the total cost spent per unit. Departmental purchases of manuals, professional guides, library books, films, recordings, monographs, serials and software not cataloged in the community college library system are expensed when incurred.

Cataloged indicates the items are listed and registered in an alphabetical file and are available for the use of others.

- 11.2.11 LEASED HOLD IMPROVEMENT: Leasehold improvements made to buildings leased should be capitalized and depreciated over the remaining life of the lease if they meet established criteria: a cost of $50,000 or more and a useful life of more than one year.
- 11.2.12 MASS PURCHASES: If several fixed assets are acquired in one purchase at a lump price, the acquisition costs should be apportioned and capitalized to the various assets if they meet the basic capitalization criteria. If an integrated system is purchased as a single asset, it should also be capitalized if it meets the basic capitalization criteria. The apportionment should be made on the basis of their appraisal values at the time of purchase (i.e., utilizing the ratio of the appraised values of each class of assets to the total appraised value). The allocated acquisition cost should be expressed in a unit cost basis, specifically for equipment and furnishings.
- 11.2.13 CAPITAL LEASED PROPERTIES: Leased tangible property should be capitalized if the non-cancelable lease agreement covering the property meets one or more of the following four criteria at the inception date of the lease agreement (FASB Statement No. 13):
- The lease transfers ownership of the property to the lessee at the end of the lease term.
 - The lease contains a bargain purchase option. A bargain purchase option is defined as a provision allowing the lessee to purchase the property for a price that is substantially lower than the expected fair value of the property at the date the option becomes exercisable.
 - The lease term is 75% or more of the estimated economic life of the leased property.
 - The percent value of the minimum lease payment at the beginning of the lease term, excluding executory costs (Insurance, maintenance costs, and property taxes), equals or exceeds 90% of the fair value of the leased property.

The capitalization thresholds for leased equipment and buildings with more than one-year useful life are $10,000 and $50,000, respectively.

If the lease agreement does not meet any of the above criteria, it is considered an operating lease for accounting purposes. The period payments, under the terms of the agreement, shall be recorded as rental expenses in the accounting system.

11.2.14 Intangible Assets - Assets that lack physical substance, are non-financial in nature, and have a useful life greater than one year. Examples include, but are not limited to, easements, water rights, timber rights, patents, copyrights, trademarks, and computer software (purchased, licensed, and internally generated).

For an intangible asset to qualify for capitalization purposes, it must meet all of the following requirements:

- The acquisition cost is at least $100,000.
- The intangible asset has a useful life greater than one year.
- The department has the ability to sell, transfer, license, or rent the asset to another party OR the asset arises from a contractual or legal right.
- The asset is nonfinancial in nature and not acquired or created primarily for the purpose of generating income or profit, the result of a capital lease transaction, or goodwill.

All intangible assets meeting the capitalization requirements specified above will be amortized (depreciated) unless the intangible asset has an indefinite life.

For computer software the following applies:

- Application software (purchased, licensed, and internally generated) shall be capitalized as a separate asset if the acquisition value is $10,000 or more and has a life of greater than one year.
- Operating software purchased with a computer package will be capitalized as part of the initial cost of the computer.

MESALANDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

BOARD POLICIES

POLICY TITLE: 12.2, POLICY

Mesalands Community College will depreciate the capital asset categories of Land Improvements, Buildings, Infrastructure, Building Additions, Equipment, Fabricated Equipment, and Capital Leasehold Improvements.

No depreciation will be taken on Land, Building Alteration and Renovation, Equipment Extraordinary repairs, Art and Historical Treasures, Donated Assets, Library Acquisitions, or Capital Leased Properties.

The Straight Line method will be the basis for the depreciation calculation and any "Sponsor Owned" portion of an asset will be excluded from the calculation. Each asset will be depreciated from the asset capitalization date (assigned when the capital asset is officially recognized as an asset) and depreciated evenly over the asset's useful life.

Mesalands Community College will amortize intangible assets which have a finite useful life.

Typically, a straight-line amortization method shall be used. Each intangible asset will be amortized from the asset capitalization date (assigned when the Capital Asset is officially recognized as an asset) and amortized evenly over the assets useful life.

MESALANDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

POLICY TITLE: 12.3, EXCEPTIONS AND WAIVERS

POLICY TITLE: 12.4, DEFINITIONS

12.4.1 DEPRECIATION: a system which aims to distribute the cost of tangible capital assets over the estimated useful life of the asset (which may be a group of assets) in a systemic and rational manner. Asset lives are linked to the asset type and are estimates of the useful life of the asset.

12.4.2 AMORTIZATION: is related to the concept of depreciation. While depreciation expenses the cost of a tangible asset over its useful life, amortization deals with expensing an intangible asset or liability, like a mortgage.

Revised: 05-11-10

MESALANDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

BOARD POLICIES

POLICY TITLE: 12.5, PROCEDURAL DIFFERENCE

Straight-line depreciation is the technique, in which the company estimates the salvage value of the asset at the end of the period during which it will be used to generate revenues (useful life) and will expense a portion of original cost in equal increments over that period. The salvage value is an estimate of the value of the asset at the time it will be sold or disposed of; it may be zero or even negative. Salvage value is also known as scrap value or residual value.

Straight Line Method: Annual depreciation expense is determined by calculating the cost of the capital asset minus the residual (or salvage) value, divided by the asset's useful life (in years).

Amortization is related to the concept of depreciation.

If an intangible asset has a finite useful life, but the precise length of that life is not known, that intangible asset shall be amortized over the best estimate of its useful life. The method of amortization shall reflect the pattern in which the economic benefits of the intangible asset are consumed or otherwise used up. If that pattern cannot be reliably determined, a straight-line amortization method shall be used.

The amount of an intangible asset to be amortized shall be the amount initially assigned to that asset less any residual value. The residual value of an intangible asset shall be assumed to be zero unless at the end of its useful life to Mesalands Community College the asset is expected to continue to have a useful life to another entity, Mesalands Community College) and (a) the reporting entity has a commitment from a third party to purchase the asset at the end of its useful life or (b) the residual value can be determined by reference to an exchange transaction in an existing market for that asset and that market are expected to exist at the end of the asset's useful life. [SFAS No. 142]

Under a straight-line amortization method, the amount of the yearly amortization is the same for all years and is equal to the total value of the intangible asset divided by the number of years of useful life.

BOARD POLICIES

SECTION: 13.0, FULL COST RECOVERY – NORTH AMERICAN WIND RESEARCH AND TRAINING CENTER
(NAWRTC)

POLICY TITLE: 13.1, OBJECTIVES

- 13.1.1 To provide uniform understanding of the Board of Trustees policy for Full Cost Recovery at the Core User Facility – NAWRTC.
- 13.1.2 To provide direction for recovery of all College costs of Sponsored Program by requiring that full cost recovery is to be included in all sponsored research, training, and other activity program proposals relating to the NAWRTC function.
- 13.1.3 To note that without full cost recovery, the College is subsidizing the cost of the research, training, and other activity project for the sponsor. This is tantamount to a gift of public funds for private benefit, which is not in the best interest of the citizens of the State of New Mexico.

The policy of the Board of Trustees of the NAWRTC is to recover the full cost incurred in the performance of sponsor-supported research, training, and other activities. The full cost of every sponsored agreement includes direct costs — those allowable costs (including Use Allowance) used to actually carry out the research, training, or other activity project — and indirect costs, which are called facilities and administrative costs (F&A). F&A costs are those that are incurred for common or joint objectives and therefore cannot be identified readily and specifically with a particular sponsored project or any other institutional activity. This document provides policy and procedural guidance for charging these costs to sponsored projects accepted by the Mesalands Community College, North American Wind Research and Training Center.

Full cost recovery of sponsor supported research, training, and other activity includes:

- Research Project Participation Costs – Incurred direct costs that can be traced directly to a specific sponsor supported research, training, and other activity effort in which the College directly participates in the sponsor supported research, training, or other activity effort. These are variable costs that are directly proportional to the level of research activity and/or the type of research, and are under the control and responsibility of the NAWRTC and the Office of the President.

- Research Project Support Costs – Incurred direct costs that can be traced directly to a specific sponsor-supported research, training, and other activity effort which the College supports at the North American Wind Research and Training Center. These would be primarily variable costs that are directly proportional to the level of research activity and/or the type of research, and are under the control and responsibility of the NAWRTC and the Office of the President.

- Facilities And Administrative (F&A) Costs
 - Indirect Facility Operations Costs – an allocation of cost of all labor, equipment, facility services, and projects required to maintain the research/training facility “available to generate” (that is, not out of service for maintenance or repairs) to perform research and training tasks. These costs are not directly assignable to or identify with a specific sponsor-supported research, training, and other activity effort. These are usually constant for a wide range of research and training efforts, and are typically fixed costs

 - Facility and Equipment Depreciation or Use Allowance – an allocation of cost associated with the use of an institution’s buildings, capital improvements to land and buildings, and equipment, based on Mesalands Community College Capitalization, Depreciation, and Use Allowance policy guidelines. Such costs are determined by computing either depreciation or a use allowance. The annual use allowance for buildings is 2% of acquisition cost. The annual use allowance for equipment is 23% of acquisition cost; and

 - Management and Administration Costs - an overhead charge rate covering costs associated with the executive direction, human resources, financial management, procurement, legal, central administrative services, information/outreach, information technology services, logistics support, taxes, project planning and control, and other costs.

The current Mesalands Community College indirect cost rate is 12.8% as approved by the Department of Health and Human Services.

Full cost recovery is to be included in all sponsored research, training, and other activity program proposals for the NAWRTC.

MESALANDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

BOARD POLICIES

POLICY TITLE: 13.2, EXCEPTIONS AND WAIVERS

13.2.1 F&A Policy Exception: An exception from the policy of charging full recovery of F&A costs may be granted to non-profit sponsors and governmental agencies that have explicit, published policies limiting their F&A cost rate and provided such policy is applicable to all applicant organizations. This policy exemption does not apply if a non-profit sponsor does not specify its maximum allowable F&A rate, or if the sponsor allows for negotiation of the F&A rate.

13.2.2 F&A Cost Waiver: In contrast to the policy exceptions, an F&A full cost recovery waiver is an institutional agreement between Mesalands Community College, NAWRTC, and a sponsor that F&A costs will be charged at a rate lower than the sponsor's published rate or that F&A costs will not be charged, whole or in part, to a particular sponsored agreement. A waiver shall be granted only under exceptional circumstances and only when the programmatic benefit to the College is compelling and outweighs the institutional benefit of recovering the full cost of conducting the project.

13.2.3 Procedure for Petitioning for an Exception of F&A Costs: Exceptions to the policy are to be initiated by the department, NAWRTC, and approved by the President of Mesalands Community College.

13.2.4 Procedure for Petitioning for a Waiver of F&A Costs: The waiver of any portion of eligible F&A cost recovery must be approved by the President of Mesalands Community College. Under no circumstances shall F&A cost waivers be considered after a project is accepted and initiated by Mesalands Community College, NAWRTC.

A petition for a waiver of F&A costs must be submitted in writing by the sponsor prior to circulating the final proposal. The petition must include written concurrence of the North American Wind Research and Training Center director, acknowledging which specific F&A costs would be waived and quantifying (documenting) the benefit the College would receive from the waiver.

These include:

- Direct and indirect personnel costs, including salaries and fringe benefits such as medical insurance and retirement. Retirement costs should include all (funded or unfunded) accrued costs not covered by employee contributions.
- Direct and indirect costs including material, equipment and supply costs, insurance, and travel.

13.3.2 Research Project Support Costs – Incurred costs that can be traced directly to (or identified with) a specific sponsor supported research, training, and other activity effort which Mesalands Community College, NAWRTC, supports. These include:

- Direct and indirect costs including support material, equipment and supply costs, sponsor training, sponsor access control support, insurance, and travel.

13.3.3 Facility and Administrative Costs: F&A costs are real expenses incurred by Mesalands Community College in support of sponsored projects, but which by OMB A-21 guidance cannot be identified specifically and consistently to a specific grant, contract, or other sponsored agreement. F&A costs stem from the institutional need to maintain a shared infrastructure that supports the research and training activities of sponsors and the College. 13.3.4 Indirect Facility Operations Costs – cost of all labor, equipment, facility services, and projects required to maintain the research/training facility “available to generate” (that is, not out of service for maintenance or repairs) to perform research and training tasks. These costs are not directly assignable to or identified with a specific sponsor-supported research, training, and other activity effort. These costs include:

- Facilities Management and Site Planning - Costs associated with facilities and their ability to function effectively, such as plant and maintenance engineering, facilities utilization analysis, modification and upgrade analysis, facilities planning and condition determinations, and rental of buildings/land.

- Utilities - Costs associated with utility-related engineering such as labor, equipment, contract services for fuel, or support needed to provide electric power, heat, steam, chilled water, potable water, process gases, and sanitary waste disposal to support business and research. This element includes all costs associated with contract services in support of utilities, such as fuel, electricity, water, and control systems (also includes energy management related activities).

The North American Wind Research and Training Center (NAWRTC) will be operated by Mesalands Community College as a Core User Facility (CUF), accessible to federal agencies, state, regional, and local governments; commercial firms, not-for-profit organizations, universities, or government-funded scientists and engineers through User Facility Agreements. The NAWRTC will provide access to a state-of-the-art wind turbine facility and related facilities staffed by technical support personnel who are active in wind turbine maintenance education and training.

POLICY TITLE: 14.1, RESEARCH USERS FACILITY ACCESS

14.1.1 There are two types of sponsors of research efforts, General Research Users and Collaborative Research Users, each with variable scope.

- General Research User - individuals or groups who need access to the Wind Turbine to conduct research, using existing equipment in the facility. The scope of a General Research User proposed research effort could vary from a single experiment to a program (valid for multiple visits and substantial access to a range of equipment extended over multiple years) to a "special" research effort (i.e. rapid access, feasibility studies, or other particular needs).
- Collaborative Research User - individuals or groups who conduct research at the wind turbine and enhance the capabilities or contribute to the operation of the North American Wind Research and Training Center. Typically, this user will develop the facility instrumentation in some way, bring outside financial and/or intellectual capital into the evolution of the wind turbine, or contribute to the operation of equipment and facilities. In recognition of their investment of either resources or intellectual capital and in order to facilitate and encourage their involvement, Collaborative Research Users may be allocated proprietary access to the facility over a period of several years, with the possibility of renewal.

POLICY TITLE: 14.2, PROPRIETARY AND NON-PROPRIETARY RESEARCH

While the vast majority of user research should be in the public domain, and so must be disseminated by publication in the open literature, there may be access for a reasonable percentage of proprietary research which utilizes these unique facilities to benefit the national economy. Users conducting proprietary research may access the facility as either General Users or as Collaborative Research Users. Efforts will be made to secure appropriate intellectual property control (i.e., Data) for proprietary users to permit them to exploit their experimental results.

POLICY TITLE: 15.1, ETHICAL CODE FOR FOSSIL COLLECTION OF MESALANDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE'S DINOSAUR MUSEUM AND NATURAL SCIENCE LABORATORY

The main goal of Mesalands Dinosaur Museum shall be the advancement of the Mesalands Community College's Natural Science Laboratory for the education of the general public and Mesalands Community College students. All specimens shall be exclusively devoted to scientific research and education.

In order to pursue this goal, Mesalands Dinosaur Museum recognizes that:

1. The principal importance of fossils is for scientific, scholarly, and educational use of both professionals and amateurs.
2. The numbers of specimens of fossils vary widely but certain fossils in all taxonomic groups are rare and that conserving and making available for study significant fossils and their contextual data is critical.
3. To leave fossils uncollected assures their degradation and ultimate loss to the scientific community through natural processes of weathering and erosion.

Mesalands Dinosaur Museum therefore adopts the following practices associated with the collection and curation of fossils:

1. Prior notification will be made, and permission or appropriate permits will be secured, from landowners or managers of private or public lands where fossils are to be collected. Aforementioned landowners and managers will be contacted solely by the Curator of Mesalands Dinosaur Museum. Students, interns, administrators, volunteers and staff are disallowed from contacting landowners for collection permission.
2. All collections will be in compliance with federal, tribal in the case of Native American lands, state, and municipal laws and regulations applied to fossil collecting. Human cultural artifacts discovered by collector(s) are to remain undisturbed.

SECTION: 16.0 TAPE RECORDING POLICY

POLICY TITLE: 16.0, TAPE RECORDING POLICY

It is a violation of College policy to record conversations with a tape recorder or other recording device unless (1) prior approval is received by the College President or Human Resources Specialist; and (2) all parties to the conversation give their consent.

The purpose of this policy is to eliminate a chilling effect on the expression of views that may exist when one person is concerned that his or her conversation with another is being secretly recorded. This concern can inhibit spontaneous and honest dialogue especially when sensitive or confidential matters are being discussed.

The purpose of this policy also is to maintain the confidentiality of student records in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).
